Red Plane Design Far Behind West

Continued Purges of Leaders Are Among Major Factors

By Lieut.-Colonel Grigori A. Tokaev

A highly-placed Soviet officer who fled to the West to fight for freedom. He carried out secret tasks for the Politburo.

When Stalin and Molotov visited Germany in 1945 they were staggered at the destruction of German cities caused by the Anglo-American air forces.

They saw the ruins of Berlin, Potsdam, Dresden, Chemnitz and Magdeburg. And these ruins alarmed both the Politburo and the Soviet General Staff, for they showed how far the Soviet Air Force had fallen back in comparison with the Anglo-Americans.

Rebuilding Begun

They returned to Moscow and immediately began to rebuild the Soviet Air Force on new lines, specializing in the long-range arm, rockets, and of course the atomic bomb.

There was a "purge," but then the history of the Soviet Air Force is one of successive "purges."

What is the present state of the Soviet Air Force and what are the prospects of future development? The major scourges which are acting as a brake in the development of Soviet aircraft are:

1. The lack of a unified command, which are now, and will always be, centralized bureaucracy pushed to the extreme, and a permanent distrust of the Air Force personnel by the Soviet rulers.

This distrust breeds systematic purges and repression among all the commanding personnel, of which I shall only give two striking examples:

From 1937 to date, the Soviet rulers have in succession, purged the following Commanders-in-Chief of the Soviet Air Force: Alkisa (1937); Loktionov (1938); Rykachev (1940); Smolenskiy (1941); Novikov (1946).

As for the Engineering Technical and Commanding personnel of the Soviet Air Force, they have been in a permanent state of purge ever since the Tukachevsky case.

That result is that professional bootlickers go in rank, whilst the officers and men are left in a permanent state of terror.

What is the result? The Commanding personnel of the Soviet Air Force is now mainly composed of people of little value, who are in positions to their ability to please their rulers.

Another reason for the crisis is the abnormal conditions under which scientific and research work in aeronautics is carried out in the U.S.S.R.

The creative initiative is paralyzed by centralized planning.

What is the result? In my country, fantastic as it may seem, is that a person may invent, create, design, and only by means of the above, and of course, under the constant surveillance of the party military commissars and bureaucrats.

One in the U.S.S.R. is allowed to do any work outside what is set by "The Plan."

Another reason is given the task to produce a scientific work within the period set by the boss, but for no reason is unable to do so, he

Many Other Factors

First of all, one has to bear in mind that there are great numbers of military scientists, engineers, etc., in my country.

Some of them, in spite of all the technical expenditure and the five bureaucracy, are making their way to the helms of science and technology.

A number, either by chance or design, fall into step with the policy of the moment, and, in such cases, automatically receive unlimited material and technical help.

As examples, I can quote the names of designers, Yakovlev and Lavochkin.

Another is the designer, Mikoyan, but the fact that he is a brother of the Politburo member undoubtedly gives him big pay.

I do not wish to imply that the aircraft designers I have just mentioned are the most brilliant in the U.S.S.R.

On the contrary, I wish to stress that the great majority of outstanding designers are kept under simply because they are about "Long Live our beloved Leader," etc. at the top of their voices.

However, improbable this may appear, it is not so. Under normal conditions in the West, it would appear that creative genius can produce results in the order of magnitude of the Soviet designers.

I mean is that a number of designers have produced their best

In every case, not only the commander-in-chief himself suffered, but also practically all his deputies, assistants, etc.

In 1946 alone, Stalin's purge affected the following among the Higher Commanding personnel of the Soviet Air Force, beside the C-in-C, Marshal Novikov, Marshal Khudakov, Marshal Voronov, Marshal Fialaev, General Selyev, General Repin, General Losyakov, General Shchegolev, and many others.

From 1939 on, the succeeding purges affected such leaders of the Soviet aircraft industry as M. M. Gornov (brother of the Politburo member) and Colonel General Shchukin.

Most of their pre-war life in prison.

Such out-landish aircraft designs as Tupolev, Petukov, Arkhangelski, and a great many others, were lost to their pre-war life in prison.

or the automatically becomes suspect and is "investigated" by the party and administrative organizations.

I know some scientific establishments where a monthly control of people of little value, who are in positions to their ability to please their rulers.

Where the SAF, as a whole, is lagging behind the West is in radar and blind flying-for-land, which is a big part of the SAF's program. It is sufficient to say that by 1948 the SAF had no practical knowledge of experience to speak of in this field.

Soviet industry is engaged in mastering the old principles of the SAF radar equipment.

As for blind flying, the SAF was quite recently trying to master

MYLES ON SHORT END OF BATTLE (OR STICK?)

"T.L.B. BACK" vowed big Vic Myles Friday night after 15 stitches were required to close a wicked gash over his right eye. Regina cap defenceman suffered injury in a wild donnybros in players' boxes last night. No one is certain who lowered the boom on Victor but there are those in the Regina camp who figure that an Edmonton flyer had a hand—or stick—in it.

Fights, Fines, Suspensions As Flyers Rub Caps

GAMES SPOILED

"I've never seen anything like it!" That was Art Somers, talking. Art Somers, who used to chase pucks up and down the rough, tough professional hockey lines against knock-em-down-drag-em-out guy Eddie Shore and Red Dutton. In his time in the NHL, they had donnybros spelled with a capital D.

But Friday night's shenanigans at the Arena between Somers' Regina Caps and Edmonton Flyers showed him something new in blood letting on skates.

The score was incidental. For the record, Flyers, 4; Caps, 2. But the casualties read like a "wounded in action" tabulation. When the last stick had been seen, the anatomy of five players looked like this:

Colin Kilburn, Flyer rookie, three stitches on the crown of his scalp.

Dave Lane, Flyer defenceman, two stitches on scalp.

Dutchy Van Derker, Regina rearguard, four stitches on right side of face.

Ringie—leg garden, risked—observed saw 45 minutes of nice, quiet hockey before 10 minutes of blood and thunder stole the show.

It was at 8:21 of the third period that Van Deelen knocked Edmonton's Bing Mearns loose from his family tree with a hard check. Mearns landed 30 feet into the boards at the Regina end of the rink, sliding with a plop that was audible to everyone in the arena.

Mearns got set up in haste. And it was while he was being assisted from the ice that Lane and Van Deelen whaled away at each other. Lane led with a hockey stick while Van Deelen swung his club like a scimitar in return, opened a similar cut on the Flyer defenceman's scalp.

From there the melee shoved its way to the players' boxes. By this time everybody was bidding for a spot in the main event. Kilburn and Myles and an unnamed Flyer finally became the "principals."

While Kilburn attempted to get in a good lick at Van Deelen, Myles, who was in the Regina box, heaved his stick like a harpoon, killing a whale. Kilburn's noggin was on the receiving end of the blow and the Flyer rookie collapsed post haste.

Myles was looking for new fields of action. He had been told that Bill Maher might have been a contender for the "big one."

But it was hard to tell who felled the Regina captain. It could have been done by any one of the many skilfuls that were brandished in the "big one."

City police officers swarmed to their battle stations at this stage to assist referees Dave Davidson and Dave Davidson.

Prosecutor Asks Death For Cardinal

Hungarian Charge To Pass Sentence First of Week

BUDAPEST, Feb. 5.—(UPI)—Hungarian state prosecutor Gyula Alapi demanded today that the "heaviest punishment"—death—be imposed upon Joseph Cardinal Mindszenty for crimes against the government.

The demand was made in a preliminary hearing against the Cardinal and his six co-defendants.

"There is not a law in the whole world which would not strike with the heaviest punishment for the crime of the defendants," Alapi said.

The maximum penalty for the crimes charged against Cardinal Mindszenty is death.

"The verdict should be a hard-hitting example," Alapi told the five-man people's court trying Mindszenty on charges of treason, espionage, black marketing and plotting to overthrow the government.

"In bringing in a verdict, take into account the Cardinal's position renders his guilt heavier because his crimes make the Church appear as an enemy of the republic."

"Not one of the defendants denied the facts, the letters, documents, or orders (presented as government evidence) are valid."

"They plotted against the republic. They were spies."

The prosecutor also attempted to link Americans with the monarchical conspiracy charged against the Cardinal by bringing in the name of American minister Selden Chapin.

"Mindszenty asked Chapin for help," the prosecutor promised "to him," Alapi said.

He also referred to Francis Cardinal Spellman, Archbishop of New York, in his summation of charges against the Cardinal.

Cardinal Spellman, he said, "collaborated with Cardinal Mindszenty to prevent the return of the Crown of St. Stephen to Hungary."

Cardinal Mindszenty was charged with conspiring to overthrow the Hungarian government.

B. C., Sask. Favor Southern Route

It looks as if Edmonton has been left out in the cold insofar as the Trans-Canada Highway is concerned.

At least that's the word of Premier Manning today following a Friday conference with representatives from towns and cities along all three proposed routes for the highway in Alberta.

The Yellowhead Pass route, favored by this northern city, has been completely snubbed by Saskatchewan and British Columbia in favor of a southerly route which would bring the highway through Calgary or Lethbridge.

Agreements made at the Dominion-provincial highway conference in Ottawa recently, showed the Dominion government, favoring only one route across each province.

Further, it was pointed out that Saskatchewan, Alberta and British Columbia would have to agree on the route it would follow through to the coast.

FAVOR SOUTH

Now it seems Saskatchewan favors the southern route through Lethbridge or Calgary and the Crown's New Past.

B.C. is adamant in its refusal to even discuss the Yellowhead route. Premier Manning and his Alberta government feel the south route is the way to remove from this rapidly-growing northern part of Alberta and has been forced to settle for the Kicking Horse and Bow routes.

It is also pointed out that the south route would also bring the highway through the capital city, Edmonton, and would be a few miles south from the capital city.

CLARIFICATION

Mr. Manning pointed out today that the federal government has not yet clarified its position in regard to financial assistance to be given the project by the senior provinces.

He also told conference delegates that the Dominion should not expect a federal highway commission since control of the Trans-Canada road system rests with provincial authorities.

Just what the next move, if any, is in effect to bring the road through Edmonton will be, no one seems quite sure yet. There is no ruling defining what the road which is that the road will not be through Edmonton under the present setup.

Assassination Attempt Fails

TEHRAN, Iran, Feb. 5.—(UPI)—The man who shot the Shah of Iran died.

Officials in the Iranian capital said the man, identified as a photographer for a Moslem newspaper, died from injuries received when he was beaten by royal guards and soldiers following the assassination attempt.

The photographer pretended to be a picture taker for the Shah. Instead, he fired five bullets at the Shah, who was standing nearby through the Shah's hat, one struck him in the mouth, and the other in the hand.

The Iranian government reported in satisfactory condition. Meanwhile, the Iranian government has outlawed the left-wing Tudeh party and arrested 14 party leaders. More arrests are expected to follow.

A proclamation accusing the party of spreading "revolutionary Communist ideology among students and workers."

Scotland Wins

EDINBURGH, Feb. 5.—(Reuters)—Scotland today defeated England 6-3 in an International Rugby Union fixture. At half-time Scotland led 3-0.

ICE HOUSE SCENE OF 2-ALARM BLAZE

With the nearest hydrant half a mile distant, the fire had a good start before hose could be placed together and a stream of water forced to bear on the burning building. More than 2,000 feet of hose was required.

The storage plant was backed by water tender close to the ice-house and a second stream of water was obtained from this source.

THREE QUARTERS EMPTY

The storage plant was three quarters empty at the time.

Four hours after the alarm, firemen were still at the scene on the snowdrift building, Damsen's, which is located on the west wall, a small section of the roof. The amount of ice lost in the blaze is unknown.

Prizes Saved By Policeman

Some lucky prize-winner in the Calder Community Hall will be indebted to Const. George Mitchell, of the city police force stationed at Calder.

Making his rounds about midnight Thursday, Const. Mitchell observed three boys burying something in the snow immediately south of the Community Hall.

He caught the boys and on bringing them back to the hall, Const. Mitchell discovered 19 small whiskey glasses, two pint-size measuring jugs, one candle stick and one caddy dish.

The glasses had been stolen from a display in the hall and were prizes to be distributed at a community gathering.

Two of the boys, brothers, were 13 and 15 years of age and the other was 14 years of age. They were taken to their home where the officer was told by the parents that they thought the boys had gone to bed.

Flights Deepen Eskimo Mystery

No Signs of Life Observed By Planes at Plague Village

Mystery surrounding the fate of inhabitants of Somerset Island in the Arctic circle was increased today following radio reports from two Dakota aircraft which reconnoitered the area Friday.

The two ski-equipped aircraft, in the area since Thursday investigating information that more than half of Creaseville Bay's 17 Eskimo residents had been wiped out in the past few months by a "mysterious plague," today gave a new twist to the situation.

Not yet arrived at Creaseville Bay, the craft made a sweep of Fort Ross, a Hudson's Bay and RCMP post 40 miles to the south and found no signs of life.

Original plan called for the Dakotas to drop radio equipment to L. A. Learmonth at Fort Ross. Learmonth has no other traps or mounts in the area were sighted.

The two aircraft then proceeded to a small village seven miles south of Fort Ross, where a party of approximately 50 people were sighted. It was not known by the crews whether they were Eskimos or white men.

A small radio transmitter was dropped along with instructions in the hope the ground group would contact the low-flying RCMP craft.

However, no contact was made with the group and it was reported that the 50 persons appeared to all be in good health.

About 100 radio were dropped 24 deerkins and small quantities of food, on speculation that there was possible sickness or starvation among them.

The small camp is some 47 miles south of Creaseville Bay, scene of the reported plague; and is just across the seal from Boothia Peninsula.

The two craft then returned to base of operations at Cambridge Bay.

Northeast Air Command revealed today that the medical and supply-equipped aircraft would attempt a landing today at Fort Ross to investigate the reported desolation. Crews of the ships which are taking on board supplies for the outposts appear satisfied that the conditions are not as serious as the special ski wheel equipped Dakotas.

Man Drives When License Suspended: Draws $75 Fine

Despite an eloquent plea by defense counsel, Fred Gokko, 11932 77 street, was fined $75 and costs in police court this morning for driving a motor vehicle while his license was suspended.

Gokko had his license suspended for three months and was fined $50 and costs Nov. 15, when convicted of dangerous driving.

Court was told that he was observed driving an automobile Friday afternoon by police at 96 street, near 106 avenue.

Defense maintained that Gokko, who was waiting for his wife while she shopped, drove the car home because he was afraid it would freeze.

Kiwanis Hear Of Television

MONDAY — Kiwanis, Cosmo-politans.

TUESDAY — Y's Men's, South Side Kiwanis, Gyns.

THURSDAY — Rotary, Lions, Optimists.

Members of Edmonton Kiwanis Club Monday will hear an address on the development of television, at their regular luncheon meeting in Macdonald hotel.

Speaker will be G. Gaetz, Edmonton radio executive, who will address the Kiwanians on the topic "Where Television?"

Another special speaker to be engaged to talk to a service club in A. J. A. Laing, chief instructor at the Edmonton Flying Club who will address Kiwanis Club members at their weekly luncheon in Macdonald Thursday noon.

Mr. Laing is a former squadron leader of the Royal Air Force and will speak on his experiences during the battle of Britain and the evacuation on Dunkirk.

Y's Men's Club will have a new members' program, put on by a committee of eight, new members heard by Roger Berube. Y's Men meet Tuesday evening at the YMCA.

Rotary Club will also have a program staged by members at their weekly gathering Tuesday noon in Macdonald. Program will include short speeches by members of Rotary Speaking Club.

Comopolitan and Gyns Clubs will have business programs next week.

Program for Optimists Club and South Side Kiwanis have not been announced.

Organist Will Be Guest Speaker

Vernon W. Harford, organist and choirmaster at All Saints' Cathedral, will address the McLaughlin Men's Association dinner meeting Wednesday at 6:15 p.m.

He will speak on "Early Music and Its Growth in Edmonton and Alberta."

Marriages and deaths both showed an increase, however.

Total marriages were 2,490 compared with 2,374, while deaths amounted to 1,541 in 1948 and 1,460 the previous year.

Figures for only residents of the city have not yet been compiled.

School Board Meet

Meeting of Edmonton Public School Board will be held in the board room, Civic block, Tuesday, Feb. 8, at 8 p.m.

Leading hockeyist is Bud McNulty, star of the rodeo and "Bandido Royal" numbers in the ice extravaganza.

He recently completed a model plane with a six-foot wing spread.

The skaters also hope to do some howling during their engagement here, as the cast has its own howling league.

At Edmonton, they hope to visit the local airport for first-hand views of the big planes they will construct in miniature.

With almost every member of the cast a model builder with several replicas to his credit.

'FREE' RIDE PROVES COSTLY

A "free" ride from Jasper Place to the downtown section of the city proved expensive for the wife and the mother, of Philip Lockwood, 10328 136 street.

Mr. Lockwood informed police that they left a shopping bag containing $10 worth of goods in the car in which they were given the ride. Included in the bag were two pairs of gabardine trousers and six valuable cushion covers.

Managers of the Bank of Commerce here, Fred Matheson was elected president of the Edmonton Clearing House Association, at an annual meeting Friday at the Edmonton Club.

About 45 persons representing all local branch banks attended the meeting and dinner which followed.

J. W. W. Williamson, Bank of Commerce accountant was named secretary-manager of the association.

Presentation of a wardrobe trunk and shaving outfit was made to M. Campbell Fraser, Dominion Bank employee for almost 42 years.

Mr. Fraser retired last year as manager of the main Dominion Bank branch here after about 20 years continuous service in Edmonton.

Higher Fares for This?

No matter what Norman D. Wilson says in his transit report about higher fares, Edmonton people will not be satisfied by pay higher bus and street car rates without a corresponding improvement in the service.

In many respects, Edmonton's transit system is more than poor. It is primitive. For instance, the railway stations, with buses stopping a good two blocks from them, can hardly be said to be served at all.

Churchgoers on Sundays get the poorest kind of a break. And while buses are standing in the car sheds, people going to and from divine service are packed and jammed in these vehicles like sardines in a can.

The University Hospital has an impossible transit service.

Without Reference to Britain

Prime Minister S. Laurent expresses the view of Canadians of all political complexions when he says that Canada should have the right to amend her own constitution without reference to the British people.

He will certainly have the support of the entire population of this country in the formulation of any constitutional device that will rid Canada of the last vestige of British parliamentary authority here.

Canadians are happy and proud to be linked to the British people and other units of the Commonwealth through the Crown.

Canadians are utterly content to acknowledge the sovereignty in Canada of His Majesty the King.

But Canadians find it intolerable that a parliament in whose election they have every 15 minutes between the hours of 1:45 and 3:24 in the afternoons and 6:45 and 8:20 in the evenings.

This may take care, in a sort of way, of visitors to the hospital. But what about persons going to the hospital for treatment or about patients entering the hospital who cannot afford the luxury of ambulance or taxi?

And so far as ordinary routes are concerned it is becoming common to hear people say they would rather stay at home than be crowded and forced to stand in a jolting bus.

All this may be good enough for 64 cents a ride. It is definitely not good enough for 81/3 cents a ride. The taxpayer's money has been used without appreciably improving the service is going to threaten the system with an even greater loss.

to Britain

shadow of authority over them or over their political system.

In all justice, the British parliament during the past several years has treated Canadian affairs with utmost delicacy and with the most scrupulous care to avoid injuring the national sensibility of the Canadian people.

But there is no guarantee that this consideration will continue.

On the contrary, it is galling in the extreme that a British government should have the remotest right to apply to the affairs of Canada a political doctrine or a political philosophy which most Canadians are abhorrent.

The British connection is a precious thing. And the British Empire, or what Mr. Attlee has permitted to be left of it, is very real and dear to the majority of Canadians.

But the only political link within that Empire is the Crown. Anything else is imaginary.

The answer is very simple:—main trouble is lack of modern passenger cars.

NO JET ENGINES

It is a fact that, in spite of the Soviet Union having such a large number of jet engines as Professor Stukin—who, by the way, spent the best years of his life in the U.S.S.R.—it has not produced a single jet engine.

These are the engines which are in use now.

The answer is also very simple:—the German engine of the JUMO 004B and BMW-003 types.

If Germany had not been beaten, the U.S.A. would not have even the jet engine.

For the last war the U.S.S.R. did not have a single modern jet engine, which would be comparable with either the Lancaster, B-29, or still less the B-50.

For the last war the U.S.S.R. was unable to strike any serious blow at the German rear through the use of jet engines.

The best modern bombers of the U.S.A. were the B-29 and B-50. Both were jet powered aircraft and are still the principal types used in the Soviet bomber air force to date.

To give a general idea, the U.S.A. may be taken as performance to the British Museum.

After the war the U.S.S.R. had a drastic stage to remedy the situation in the U.S.A. in general and the heavy bomber air force in particular.

Thinks Federation

PHILPOTT

A British Labor MP is horrified because one of his constituents asks whether Britain might not be better off to join the U.S.A. The member, Ben Levy, answers: "The possibility of being ruled by the U.S. Congress, the possibility of finding ourselves dominated by their vastly inferior culture, the possibility of finding ourselves submerged in the vast sea of the U.S.A. or 30 years behind ourselves, are quite horrifying."

Horrorizing as the prospects may be, I venture to suggest that not only British but Canadian people would be taken over by the U.S.A. unless we work out some form of honorable federation.

Doomed To Fail

Magnificent as is Britain's attempt to make a comeback, in my opinion it will fail. Anyone who studies the Interim Report of the Organization of European Economic Co-operation will find that Western Europe will still be three billion dollars short of paying her own way even by 1955. That is, even if all countries continue working at the tempo of the war, and consent to maintain the low standard level of living.

Please do not give up the line about another day off instead of Sunday. Now, perhaps, but when less prosperous times come along the open Sunday would bring back a fifth day of working week or else! We might suggest that a hard day's work on Saturday, which appears to be common nowadays, is conducive to Sunday rest.

Money's Worth

Editor, Bulletin.—Our Canadian dollar, supposed to be worth par in the U.S., is actually worth about 85 cents; and the British pound is worth $2.50 in the New York free market. How can anybody expect stable working conditions when we have currencies which are not worth what their face value is? Let's have currencies based on actual value, and not fictitious ones.

From Today's News

By David Mackenzie

"Freedom of speech" is a right for which liberty-loving men the world over will fight to the death. But just what constitutes free speech? Where is the line between free and unfettered speech?

That's not always easy to answer. Sometimes a good deal depends on whether you grin when you make the speech.

The other night a meeting of landlords at Fort Worth, Texas, and the police were called in to break up the meeting. The police were called in to break up the meeting.

Trivia

He is a strong man who can hold his own in a fight.

Half the life we lead within our hearts are lies because we hear them.

British goods would be sure of a good market in the U.S. for its duty would be reduced. British techniques are far ahead of the U.S. business world to the British firms.

Economic Advance

I do not believe that any person can argue effectively that Britain would not be better off materially as part of the U.S.A. I think that the business world, yet seen any responsible authority argue that Canada would not be better off materially if we became an out-and-out part of the U.S.A.

Most of us still figure that we would lose more than we would gain. We have our own history, national identity; above all, the national hope of a high destiny for our children.

For young Canada to cry quits to our attempt at nation building would be a minor wrench as compared with that which would be required for ancient Britain to become one of the United States.

Yet, as the years go by, more and more people in Britain and Canada are looking at the present problems of Britain and Canada and seeing the advantages and disadvantages.

With one money, one law, one language, one space which permitted free movement of goods and services, the present problems of Britain and Canada would be solved.

The political, material, social, perhaps. The process would be very gradual. For if we had to apply to be taken into the U.S.A. as failures, we would be very much.

But in the end, I believe we have two good choices: To federate with U.S.A. in an open honorable area, one with rights and self respect, or to be taken over as political bankrupts. If we want the latter, the latter leaders had better get busy pushing the former.

NOTORIOUS GUNMAN TAKES HIS OWN LIFE

THIRTEEN, Feb. 5.—(UPI)—Edna Bonaguidi, who was known as Freedy La Rose in the days when he was said to be a routine police officer, killed himself here last night rather than face a routine police investigation.

The 36-year-old gunman was deported from the United States about 10 years ago.

He frequently shot at himself since 1931, but said since 1931 he would rather die in America than live in Italy.

Romagnolo was born in Italy, but went to France and became known there as a gunman of a Paris gang. He finally was sent to Devil's Island and after serving a term there he reached the United States.

He was associated with Capone during the days of this gang chief's greatest power in Chicago, and was reported as the deadliest gunman of the gang.

Farmer Shoots Wife and Self

REGINA, Feb. 5.—(UPI)—The RCMP reported yesterday that James Hulse, about 35, killed himself and his wife yesterday. As RCMP arrived in his farm to investigate the shooting, Hulse shot himself.

Police said that after Hulse fired the shotgun blast at his wife he placed the gun in C. Hemminger's hands. Hulse said he was afraid his wife would shoot him.

When C. Hemminger arrived at the farm by sleigh, Hulse had been shot in the yard. Then he turned and went into the house. Both bodies were found on the kitchen floor when C. Hemminger entered the farm house.

$100,000 Salvage Try Frustrated

YANCOUVER, Feb. 5.—(UPI)—John Porter first attempt to salvage the $100,000 wrecked ship F. M. York has been frustrated by lack of funds. The 200-foot ship was sunk Feb. 2.

Porter is attempting to reach the ship with a "home-made" steel diving bell and then refloat the vessel with barges and tugs.

The F. M. York sank about a year ago during a heavy storm with a loss of one man.

During his first attempt to reach the ship, which he sought for $100,000, Porter broke the neck of the raft, from which his descent was made, caused the 10-foot bell to become one of the jagged rocks.

LONDON, Feb. 5.—(Reuters)—Viscountess Alenby Thursday was granted a divorce decree against her husband, Viscount Alenby, after a year of separation.

Viscountess Alenby, daughter of the Duke of Devonshire, was married to Viscount Alenby in 1921.

The divorce was granted by the High Court in London. The couple had been separated for over a year.

Corporation Tax Data Sought

OTTAWA, Feb. 5.—(CP)—The commonsense yesterday gave first reading to a private bill that would authorize the government to provide parliament with information obtained in tax returns of corporations.

The bill, sponsored by Stanley Knowles (C-NDP) of the North Centre, would move from the secret provision in the income tax act which prevents the government from disclosing any information in tax returns.

Inside Hollywood

By Bob Thomas

HOLLYWOOD—(AP)—It looks as though Betty Hutton will stick to the violent screen roles that shot her to fame.

Night now Betty is getting the full treatment in "Red, Hot and Blue"—pie-throwing and everything. Despite all the vehicles that have been announced, her next likely will be "Little Boy Blue," a night club yarn. Only other set for the cast as yet is Billy Dewolf.

There's good reason for Betty's leaving to knockout roles. "Devam Girl," in which she played a wistful Walter Mitty, was not among her best-selling pictures.

Montgomery Clift still has no picture plans. He's in Switzerland on a vacation. He is reported mulling "Lorna Doone" for Edward Small in England.

Peter Lawford will take his father and mother to England this summer, for their first return to the homeland since they left in 1937. They'll leave as soon as Peter finishes "Storm Over Virens."

Joan Leslie is getting a number of offers since her freedom from Warner. One of them is a chance to play opposite Dick Powell in "Mrs. Mike." However, Joan is considering motherhood because of the serious illness of her mother.

Dorothy Lamour in Palm Springs nursing torn ligaments in her leg. Reports here are that Lana Turner will be back sooner than expected. She's eager for work, friends say.

God's Blueprint

The prisons of the world are filled with men who have learned at bitter cost that "crime does not pay." Good sense, prudence, not to mention morality and self-respect, warn against infringing the laws of the State. A man may commit a crime and "get away with it." But the habitual law-breaker will inevitably stand at the bar of judgment and expiation.

In the spiritual life especially, where we speak not of crime but of sin, wrongdoing is even more certain to bring tragedy. The sinner is never undetected, since the One offended is God, Who is omniscient and cannot be deceived.

Some sins may be spiritual misdemeanors, such as being unkind toward others or telling small lies; or spiritual felonies, such as blasphemy or adultery. But they are all dangerous. The slight sin may lead to big sins. And whereas God, unlike human judges, will always forgive the repentant, the obstinate evil-doer will eventually have to pay the price of his folly.

In the Ten Commandments God gave man a blueprint upon which to build his life. Some may complain that the demands are severe and unattainable, but on human nature; that man cannot be expected rigidly to observe it. The answer is in the countless millions who not only model their lives in willing compliance with the divine mandates but are happy in doing so. One never finds a man sad because he obeys the will of God. But where is the happy sinner? The way of the transgressor is always hard.

Fear of divine retribution is a good reason for honoring the divine precepts. But the real motive should be the love of God. God has given us many blessings—so many, indeed, that were we to spend our lives in a ceaseless outpouring of praise, we could not even begin to thank Him enough. If, then, God asks us to yield Him the tribute of loyalty and obedience, should we not submit to His gracious and unreservedly?

Keeping the commandments is not hard if we constantly remember that sin is a direct offense against the majesty and goodness of God. The justice of God commands that sin be punished. His mercy is never withheld from the truly repentant.

Funds Are Sought

LONDON, Feb. 5.—Dr. Geoffrey Francis Fisher, Archbishop of Canterbury, proposed here that the Anglican Society for the Propagation of the Gospel divert 20 per cent of its funds to a separate account for the Church of the South India. Formed in 1947, the South India Church represents a union of former Anglican, Methodist, Presbyterian and Congregational groups.

Services Resume At Strathcona

Services will be resumed in Strathcona Presbyterian Church beginning Sunday, Feb. 6. For the time being the services will be held in the Church Hall, until such time as the auditorium of the new church is completed.

This resumption of services is not only "the opening" of the new church, but it is also the beginning of a new era in the life of the church. It is hoped that the service of dedication will be held in the new future.

During building operations the service have been held in the Acacia Masonic Hall.

Red Deer Legion Re-Elects Kirby

RED DEER, Feb. 5.—W. J. C. Kirby was re-elected president of the Red Deer branch of the Canadian Legion at the annual meeting held here this week. The other officers re-elected were R. W. E. Teley, first vice-president; R. C. Lister, second vice-president and the executive; F. L. De Launay, F. W. Smith and H. R. Meeres. C. M. Norman is secretary-manager of the branch.

Reports of an active and successful year were heard. Membership stands at 452. Pappy sales were $785.00, representing a per capita contribution of 27c for the city. The 1940 campaign was the most successful one to date.

Building plans occupied considerable time at the meeting, a motion was passed instructing the building committee, headed by A. Houston, to prepare plans for presentation at the building's work.

Wetaskiwin Auxiliary Holds Installation

WETASKIWIN, Feb. 5.—Mrs. Barbara MacEachern has been installed as president of the Ladies' Auxiliary to the Canadian Legion Post No. 86, and a number of other officers were also installed at the same meeting.

First vice-president is Mrs. Teresa Mulroney; second vice-president Mrs. Mickey Edwards; treasurer Mrs. Margaret McLure; secretary Mrs. Mildred Hagdon; and sergeant-at-arms Mrs. Dorothy Salt.

Committees appointed at the meeting were social convener, Mrs. Marjorie Davis, assisted by Mrs. Martha Baker and Mrs. Winifred Wing; Membership, Mrs. Gretta Yuchin; Mrs. Stella Bahgale; Red Cross, Mrs. Lida Howarth; Wetaskiwin and Vegreville at large, Mrs. Margaret Davis; Visiting and comfort, Mrs. Nan Mickelson; Mrs. Mickey Edwards; Puppies, Mrs. Constance Gowers; Mrs. Yvette Spencer; Mrs. Teresa Mulroney; Pianists, Mrs. Gladys Jackson; Mrs. Lida Howarth; Press reporter, Mrs. Winifred Heilmann.

The retiring president, Mrs. Mickelson, gave a resume of the Auxiliary's activities during the past year and satisfactory reports were read by the treasurer and by the acting secretary, Mrs. Gowers.

Church Reports Prosperous Year

VERMILION, Feb. 5.—St. Savour's Church annual dinner and business meet was held in the Masonic Temple on Monday evening. Seventy-five members were in attendance. Reports as given were as follows:

AYPA report was read by President Audrey Watts, and WA report was read by Secretary Mrs. Hodan, and supplemented by Medesones Robinson and William president and secretary, respectively.

WA-HIGH was read by Mrs. S. C. Colver, and Junior WA report was given by Mrs. T. W. Teape. Sunday school report was given by Mrs. F. Davidson, and that of the vestry by Treasurer H. Pickett.

All reports showed a prosperous year in growth and finances. The pastor appointed E. H. Buckingham rector, warden, and the congregation elected L. H. Pickett people's warden.

Elected to the vestry were: S. R. P. Cooper, A. H. Cooper, C. Brennan, H. Evans, W. Fooks, A. E. Kainer, J. Kerns, H. B. Parker, M. Simonsen, R. Taylor, A. M. Watt, T. Watts.

Code of Ethics Address Given

ANDREW, Feb. 5.—Andrew Home and School Association, of which J. W. Hucak is president and Mrs. Mary Hennick secretary, held its monthly meeting in the schoolhouse.

Nick Melnyk gave an address on the "Code of Ethics." It was decided that the association approach the village council to enforce the code.

TWO LACOMBE BOYS GIVEN RECOGNITION

LACOMBE, Feb. 5.—Two Lacombe boys, Don Pointney, 12, and Roger Selvaia, 15, were presented with Royal Humane Society certificates at the Lions' Club father and son banquet held Jan. 31. Presentation was made by Dr. George Hawthorn.

The two boys had been instrumental in saving the life of two-year-old Bryan Farewell, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. S. Farewell of Edmonton and grandson of Mr. and Mrs. Harry Holmes of Lacombe, on May 20, 1948.

Finding of the little fellow had climaxed a four-hour search in which over 500 took part. Using a borrowed flashlight, the two boys picked up footprints of the tot and eventually found him sitting exhausted in water up to his neck. He had wandered a mile and a half.

MEL (SUDDEN DEATH) HILL wasn't perilously close to a quick demise at the Arena Friday night. But the former NHL operator carried the above memento away with him after colliding with Pug Young's stick. Two stitches were necessary to repair the wound.

Colorado University Shades Bears 3-2

Special to The Bulletin
COLORADO SPRINGS, Colo., Feb. 5.—Hampered by unfamiliar rules University of Alberta Golden Bears dropped a 3-2 decision to Colorado College Friday night in one of the fastest, flashiest hockey games seen here in recent years.

American amateur rules forbid body-checking except in the defensive zone. These rules difference contributed considerably to Bears' downfall. Cy Thomas, Alberta wingman was unable to play because of his professional status.

Wiskart sent Colorado away at 12:31 of the initial stanza but Scotty Sherriff knotted the count before the session ended.

Bill Case put visitors up 2-1 early in the middle session only to have Chris Ray and Ronnie Newman run in Colorado counters for the 2-2 margin of victory.

There was no scoring in the third period because of spectacular work by goalies Roy Reals of Colorado and Jumping Joe Moran, of Golden Bears.

Colorado is coached by Cheddy Thompson, a former Saskatchewan chief. The rink was filled to the brim and the SRO sign also is out for Saturday's clash Jim Fleming and Ted Kryczka were best of the Bears.

A Brannigan for Fair.

We came by it all second-hand, a prior date with some curling Johnnies being enough to keep us away from the Arena.

But from all accounts and they were legion, not to say varied, Flyers-Regina brannigan of a few hours back rates with the best ever to break out at the ice-house.

Until long after midnight the customers kept phoning the sports department. "How's Kilburn?" "Why don't they run that Myles out of hockey?" "Why did Kilburn get a match misconduct?" "You say Myles required 15 stitches, that Kilburn isn't in hospital?" "Has McDonald made a statement yet?"

Honest, the citizens seemed really attemed up over the whole affair.

Boiled down it appeared that 'Dutchy' Van Deelan, never one to retreat into a storm-cellar when the going gets rough, had played the tough-guy role to the point where he was bound to be 'chosen' by some one of the Flyers.

Finally Doug Lane decided the time was ripe. From that point things started to happen.

Myles Wilds War Club

According to Frank Krueger, bossman of the Flyers, Van Deelan subsequently 'ambushed' Lane in the runway as both headed for their respective dressing rooms for repairs.

This precipitated the wild melee in and around the players' boxes on the west side of the rink, with Lane's teammates keen to go to his assistance, the Caps also requiring no second invitation as they sought to show their loyalty to the embattled Van Deelan.

Everyone seems agreed on this point. Also it's acknowledged that Myles, who certainly should know better, brought his war-tub down hard on the Kilburn noggin. At the time he was apparently under the impression that the Flyer rookie had cut him open for all those stitches he came in for in hospital later.

On the other hand it's by no means unanimous that Myles had yet been open at the time he went after Kilburn. In any event the big Regina ruseguard visited the Flyer dressing room once the tumult had died down. There he expressed his regret over his actions.

But if Kilburn didn't carve Myles, who did? Suggestion has been made that it was an accident. Certainly no one in either camp seemed to have a clue.

Final Score (by stitches): Caps 21, Flyers 5

League President D. P. McDonald, who sat in on the fracas, acted quickly once the klaxon had gone. Less than an hour later he announced that Myles, Van Deelan, Kilburn and Lane would sit out next Wednesday night's scheduled Flyer-Caps contest in Regina. As well each would have to go into his pocket for $25.

Certainly of those who kept the phones so busy, so long, all but screamed when informed of the presidential edict. "Dive man to say that's all Myles got?" one asked incredulously. "Why holy smoke, he should be barred for the rest of the season, at least."

Then there was silence, quickly followed by the mutterings of a man getting ready to tear a phone from his moorings.

In case you're wondering why Kilburn drew his match misconduct President McDonald, with the referees' report in mind, explained that it was because of his "launting" actions in front of the Regina box, all of which served to add fuel to the fire.

It has just occurred that if Caps have harbored any hopes to this point of being able to strike fire into the Edmonton camp before playoffs roll round they may have been all but dissipated by the events of last evening.

Because, significantly enough, when it came time to do a stitching job on the athletes the final count read: Caps 21, Flyers 5.

Canada Won't Bid For Puck Tournament

The U.S. can have it, Canada doesn't want it.

Dr. W. G. Hardy, president of the International Ice Hockey federation, said here Friday that Canada would not bid for the world's amateur hockey tournament, tentatively scheduled for before the border next year.

"We doubt if it would be financially successful in Canada as yet," Dr. Hardy stated. "The Allan Cup is so important in our minds that I don't think we could compete against it right now."

There is also the fact that the tournament was first asked for by the United States where it "probably will be more successful financially."

United States cities bidding for the event are Boston, St. Paul, Minneapolis, and Lake Placid, N.Y.

Meanwhile, Canada will be represented at a meeting of the I.H.F. in Stockholm next week by Walter A. Brown of the I.H.F. president of the Amateur Hockey association team of the United States, in Stockholm, Brown will officially accept the 1950 tournament for the U.S.

This year's championships will be decided in Stockholm, starting Feb. 11.

THINGS ARE TOUGH ALL OVER, especially on the noggin for Colin Kilburn, left, and Doug Lane, Regina captain. Vic Myles opened a three-stitch gash on Kilburn's head and Doug Van Deelan combed Lane to the extent of two stitches.

Wild Donnybrook As Flyers Win

Major and match-misconduct penalties to Van Deelan and Lane, and match-misconducts to Myles and Kilburn.

That wasn't all. The four came in for automatic $25.00 fines and have been suspended for the Regina-Edmonton game in Regina on Feb. 9. The latter ruling came from league president D. P. McDonald, who witnessed the free-for-all from the stands.

Merik's bruise wasn't serious and he played the remainder of the game. But the Flyer winger can be excused for having a headache.

Myles, Van Deelan, and Lane left the game under their own steam. Big Vic isn't any more so when Caps met Lethbridge Maple Leafs in the southern city tonight but unless complications set in he will be around when Regina needs him most here to the wire.

Kilburn required a stretcher for transportation to the dressing room. He wobbled in his coruscates more than any of the others but left the dressing room in high gear after the game.

SOMERS HAD A REASON. And one word about Somers. He had good reason to say "Tye never seen anything like it." The main brawl was concentrated around his perch on the Regina bench.

Hill suffered his laceration in a later skirmish with Pug Young. Young combed the Hill temple with the blade of his stick and that was that. No further blows were fired by either man, or by either team for that matter.

It wasn't the greatest kind of a hockey game you'll ever see, although nobody is going to care much about that now. For one thing the Caps lacked zip. Excepting when the fights were on, it was a Flyer show all the way.

The Allan Cup champions roared ahead 3-1 in the first period and increased their lead to 7-2 in the second. Flyers had a 3-1 margin in what they were in the final stanza.

Elmer Krelier, Fred Smitten, and others scored two goals apiece for Flyers, while Lane, Andy Clovechak, Alex Pringle and Merik added singletons. But Mc Dougall fired the first two Regina markers and Red Tison got the third in 42 seconds left to play in the game.

Stockwell Garners 22 Points To Pace Bears to 52-32 Win

Lethbridge Aces came and saw, but that's all they did at Varsity Drill Hall Friday night.

For they ran smack into coach Murray Van Vleet's Golden Bears (basketball version) in an exhibition tilt. And, yanking, drubbing the southerners by a 52-32 count.

It was guard Don Stockwell who teased the Aces most, especially in the last half when he clicked for 16 points. Add this to a half dozen points in the opening half and you could say Stockwell had himself a good night of 22 points.

BEARS GIVE LATE KICK

A last half drive won it for Bears. Aces hung tough in the first period, but the Bears broke through in the second half when they scored 17-14.

Statement came from Dr. Davis Cameron, one of the doctors treating the golf champion for assorted injuries suffered in an automobile-bus collision Wednesday.

Earlier it had been feared Hogan might even have a broken back. But the doctor said there was no fracture.

A bulletin said Hogan should get well rapidly and his injuries should be fully healed in about two months.

Ranger Midgets Subdue Mapleles

Rangers downed Mapleles by a 5-3 count Friday night in a Maple Leaf and Midget Hockey league clash at 10:45 start night.

Johnny Young and Dick Launson scored twice for the winners, while Edwin Zemara added a singleton. Bob Cowan (2) and Don Hundert were Maple goal-getters.

Veterans of 3 Services Represented at Couves

All three services, the Navy, the Army and the Air Force, boasts representatives on the staff of Couves Radio and Electrical Appliances repair shops.

And most of the boys fostered their radio and electrical appliance studies while in the service during the recent conflict. The firm, which recently opened a new repair centre, first started business in October, 1943, and has progressed steadily ever since. Frank Couves, an army veteran, opened the firm in partnership with K. L. Howett and was joined by his brother Charles who returned from service with the RCAF in 1945. Howett sold out his partnership in May, 1948, and in June, 1948, his brothers took on a new partner in Cliff Kennedy, who also saw service with the RCAF. Two other air force veterans are Gerry Morton, who is in charge of the inter-communication department for the firm and Graydon Arksey, who is service manager.

Two U.S. Soldiers Face Murder Charges

ANCHORAGE, Alaska, Feb. 5.—(AP)—Two United States air force soldiers Thursday were charged with murder in the brutal slaying of Bertha Slickie, 39-year-old Washburn, 27.

whose battered, nearly nude body was discovered in a culvert by dogs near the outskirts of town. The accused soldiers were Lester L. Armstrong, 23, and Thomas M.

NEW SERVICE centre for radio and electrical appliance repairs has been opened by Couves Radio at 10210 106 Street. Standing by trucks, left to right, Ernest Wickens, Gerry Morton and Douglas Naylor. In background are, Frank Couves, Cliff Kennedy, Al Gillespie, Charlie Couves, Bill Thachuk, Harold Elliott, Graydon Arksey, Joe Bouvier and Adam Kantanas.

New Radio Service Centre Is Opened

Couves Establishment Has Many Unique Features

A new $20,000 service centre for radio and electrical appliance repairs has been opened by Couves Radio at 10210 106 Street.

The building, which is 75 feet in length and 30 feet wide, is modern in every manner. Unique lighting, streamlined work benches and all new and up-to-date equipment have been installed.

Increased business during the past year necessitated the construction of the new premises. Formerly all the sales and service on radio and electrical appliances was handled at Couves radio shop at 10316 103 Street. The firm will continue to operate at this location.

A staff of nine, in addition to the three partners, is employed by the firm at their two locations. Partners are Charles and Frank Couves and Cliff Kennedy. The staff consists of Graydon Arksey, Gerry Morton, Ernest Wickens, Douglas Naylor, Al Gillespie, Harold Elliott, Joe Bouvier, Adam Kantanas, and Bill Thachuk.

All 12 are said to be experts in their field. Most of them have years of experience to their credit, and according to Frank Couves, "they represent one of the best radio and electrical appliance repair staffs in the city."

Electric products.

They handle a large share of job work and repairs for local departmental stores and radio and electrical appliance wholesale and retail firms, according to Frank Couves.

At a special feature of their service, Couves Radio picks up and delivers any radio and electrical appliances in need of repair. To offer this service and to insure prompt and efficient service, the firm employs three trucks.

The new repair centre, according to the management, will provide patrons with expert workmanship, prompt and efficient service. "If we can't fix your radio trouble or the repairs needed on your electrical appliances, they can be fixed." That's the boast of the staff, according to Frank Couves.

By J. D.

Thousands of Edmontonians were stricken suddenly Friday with a deadly malady called "dearer-lum trains."

Also known as three-for-a-quarter fever, the disease attacks only patrons of the Edmonton Transit System.

A comprehensive survey made early today revealed not a single case among Edmonton's 3,000 automobile owners.

Symptoms vary as between individuals. But one outward manifestation common to all sufferers is a sudden resolve to start walking to work coupled with a compelling urge to buy a bicycle.

In the acute stage the victim is not fit to fly into a rage at the mere mention of such words as "traveller bus," "basic minimum passenger revenue" and "rush-hour peak loads." A feeling of inadequacy often develops. Said one sufferer: "It makes me feel like seven and one third cents."

Unless checked through vigorous action on the part of civic authorities, (and well we hope against such action), the outbreak should reach epidemic proportions about March 1 next.

Ironically, the mayor and aldermen are nearly all immune. They drive their own cars. Just the same, they'll be blamed by a lot of people for the outbreak. Most of the blame, however, will be heaped on the massive shoulders of one sufferer: "It makes me feel like seven and one third cents."

Seriously, there can be no doubt about a substantial hike in transit fares being just around the February corner. It will hit the pockets of a lot of less-affluent people pretty hard too.

Take for example elegant Esther. Esther is the waitress in the eatery where the street where the news room gang gather for their Java interludes. Esther lives away out near the stockyards although everybody says she should be in Hollywood, where art is really appreciated. Her reaction to the proposed fare hike is to write the City of Edmonton on March 1.

People who use the Transit system six times in one day will be kicking half a dollar into the city coffers. Many people ride to and from work, morning and evening, go home for lunch and back and then over town and home from a show in the evening.

If you're married and have a few youngsters going to school the tram bill could become a staggering item in that much-publicized family budget. Wonder if it would be too hard to get the hang of riding a bike once again?

One gleam of silver in the dark cloud threatening the city's pocketbook is the assurance from expert Wilson that he will recommend improved services. After all, people don't mind paying more money to get the Transit system on a paying basis, they are sure of better service. Wilson has declared many alterations in transportation systems in his lifetime in many parts of the world. If he does the job right there won't be too many squawks about the higher fares, at if they go into effect.

Roads Slippery In All Districts

Edmontonians travelling by road over the weekend are warned today against extremely slippery road conditions throughout the province. All highways are passable however, and no recent drifting has occurred. Roads in the Dawson Creek area may be blanketed by thick fog and snow is expected later today. Trains from the east were again delayed by adverse weather conditions in the central provinces. Both westbound transcontinental trains were four hours behind schedule.

'CON' MAN HERE USES BIG BUSINESS FRONT

Pleading guilty to three charges of false pretences and use of the name of the City of Edmonton, John H. Pulk was remanded until Feb. 14 for sentence when he appeared before Magistrate A. L. Miller Friday afternoon.

Under guise of a "big business" front complete with an office in the Wallace building, printed order forms, prospectus, and the like, Pulk obtained $13,000 in advances on orders he received as representative of Canadian Machine and Tooling Limited, an unregistered, and therefore illegal, company.

Orders taken by Pulk were for heavy woodworking machinery purportedly designed to prepare

Ex-RCAF Organizing Meet Held

Breadner Outlines Aims to Proposed Edmonton Branch

Nearly 150 ex-airmen and airwomen attended an organization meeting for an Edmonton Wing of the RCAF Association at North West Air Command Headquarters Friday.

Speakers at the evening was former RCAF pilot, Lt. H. Breadner, president of the association. He presented a plan for the proposed Edmonton branch of the association. Breadner, who is now in the civilian service, said the association's aim is to maintain the comradeship built up during the war and to assist in the adjustment of ex-airmen and airwomen to civilian life.

OPEN TO ALL RANKS

It is also intended, he said, to keep RCAF veterans in touch with new developments in service and civilian life. It is hoped, he said, to replace the comradeship of all ranks of the RCAF. The association is open to all ranks of the RCAF, including ex-airmen and airwomen, and their families.

Present provincial president of the association is Lt. Col. H. Breadner, who is now in the civilian service. He is also a member of the association. The association is open to all ranks of the RCAF, including ex-airmen and airwomen, and their families.

RCAF PATTERN
The RCAF Association does not intend to compete with existing veterans' organizations such as the Canadian Legion.

Present Alberta provincial president of the association is Lt. Col. H. Breadner, who is now in the civilian service. He is also a member of the association. The association is open to all ranks of the RCAF, including ex-airmen and airwomen, and their families.

Queen of Edmonton's 1948 Winter Carnival, Miss Wilson's trip to Banff is sponsored by a civic recreation group. Henry Singer's contribution to Miss Wilson's success is a suit out by Irving of Montreal.

CRIME ON INCREASE

Your Dentist Can Tell You About Honesty
By PAT McVEAN
Ask your dentist if you want to know about the honesty of Edmontonians. Local dentists are suffering from an outbreak of petty theft. Local dentists of latest issues of popular magazines taken from dental waiting rooms, and suspects include practically anyone with new fillings in his teeth.

The crime has been on the increase since dentists surrendered to the terrors of radio comedians and threw away the out-dated issues of magazines that were once the butt of jokes.

JUST TOO POPULAR
In Edmonton now many dentists spend up to $100 a year in magazine subscriptions to provide their waiting room reading material for their patients.

But the magazines have proved too popular. Patient became engrossed in an article while they're waiting for the dentist, find they're unable to finish it in the waiting room and slip the book into their pocket.

Comic books present an overwhelming temptation to juvenile patients, and one local dentist who stocked his waiting room with popular comic books found only one copy left at the end of the day.

Meeting will be held Feb. 8th at Chicago Vocational Training School at 8 p.m. for the purpose of re-organizing and electing officers.

Highlands' Queen Is Betty Oliver

Miss Betty Oliver, popular student of Eastwood High School, was crowned queen of the Highlands Community Carnival at the annual ice show Friday evening.

Miss Oliver won in a close contest over two other popular members of the Highlands Edmonton Club, Miss Joyce Hollands and Miss Betty MacPherson.

Crowning of the queen marked the climax to a colorful ice carnival featuring a fancy skating machine (titled Girl King Cole).

More than 60 youthful community skaters took part in the King Cole skates under the direction of Miss Peggy Newland.

OPENED BY SIMMONDS
Charles Simmonds, president of the Federation of Community Leagues officially opened the carnival, and Mayor Harry Almay of Edmonton at the crowning of the queen.

Performing before an overflowed audience, the young blade artists performed in sparkling, fashion, with speed-skating on the program. Winners were: Roger Dalmer, Ruth Bell, Roy Adams, Doreen Plonkovich, Ernie Demchuk, Joann Pyles, Bob Irwin, Jeanette Farion.

H. C. SWEET TO HEAD SCHOOL INSPECTORS

H. C. Sweet, high school inspector of Edmonton, was president of the Alberta School Superintendents' Association at its annual conference draw to a close on Friday.

More than 100 school superintendents attended the sessions, which started in the legislative buildings on Wednesday.

Other officers named on Friday afternoon were: president, Hon. Ivan Casey, minister of education; vice-president, L. A. Thorne, head teacher and secretary-treasurer, E. M. Erickson, Hadden.

The following were named as district representatives on the executive committee: A. L. Schrag, Spirit River; J. Sylvester, Hintonville; F. Hanneke, Two Hills; H. V. McCullough, Lacanville; W. S. Kivik, Carleton Place; G. L. Nowell, Fergus.

The educationalists heard Dr. A. L. Schrag of the mental hygiene section of the department of health in a discussion of the value of the clinic's work in relation to school youngsters.

Canada's Story is Told To World in 2 Tongues

Concert Set For Feb. 13

University of Alberta Music Club will hold its next concert, Feb. 13, in Convocation Hall. Artists will be Jocelyn Rogers, pianist, and William J. Kelly, tenor. Miss Rogers, daughter of Knox United Church minister, Rev. George Rogers, moved to Edmonton a few months ago from Halifax, and is a freshman in fine arts at the University.

She has her associates and friends degrees. Miss Rogers will play Bach's French Suite in E Major, the Beethoven Sonata in Flat, the Debussy's Valse and Minuet, and Chopin's Fantasia Impromptu.

Mr. Kelly, who is studying engineering at Varsity, will be making his concert debut on the program. An active member of the Varsity Mixed Chorus, he has been soloist with that group during the last two years, and in this week's Mixed Chorus concert was soloist in the rendition of Blow The Man Down.

The concert begins at 9:45 p.m.

Rotary Club Told About Switzerland

Switzerland has the greatest industrial output per capita in the world, and is noted for the exceptionally fine quality of its goods. Anton R. Lenz, of the Swiss Consulate in Toronto and Thursday.

He was speaking to members of the Edmonton Rotary Club at their regular meeting on Thursday.

In his address, which was illustrated with slides, Mr. Lenz said that despite the fact Switzerland is a small country, it is a great industrial nation. It is especially noted for its watches and precision instruments.

Mr. Lenz is making a tour of Canada to bring a new picture of his home country to Canadians.

Effect of Wheat Pact on Alberta Economy Stressed

Effect of new British wheat agreements on Alberta's agricultural economy was stressed today by O. S. Longman, deputy minister of agriculture, speaking to the annual conference of district agriculturalists in the legislative building.

There were more than 50 B.A.'s at the session which will continue for the rest of this week.

Mr. Longman said that the new wheat pact was a landmark in the history of Canadian agriculture.

SMALL BOYS LOSE ANOTHER JOY IN LIFE

NEW YORK, Feb. 5.—(CP)—The Western Union company has taken steps to end a time-honored pastime of small boys—throwing rocks at those big glass insulators on telegraph poles.

To cut down the losses on insulators, which also have been a favorite target for hunters, Western Union has developed a new, inexpensive, unbreakable rubber insulator.

The new insulators were only one-cent each as much as the old glass insulators.

Rocks thrown at harmlessly and bullets do not cause shattering.

Auditorium Lack Keeps Band Away

Louis Armstrong Visit Called Off by Agency

By Dick Sherbanik

Louis Armstrong and his band won't be coming to Edmonton—at least, not in the near future.

It had originally been planned to bring the Armstrong band here in January, but the agency has decided to cancel the visit.

The reason is that old Negro music is not popular in Edmonton—according to Mr. Sherbanik.

Between Winnipeg and Vancouver there is a really excellent audience for jazz and entertainers, and this difficulty, coupled with others, has caused the agency to cancel the visit.

Any bookings until spring at least would be a waste of money, as the audience is not large enough to justify the cost.

It is difficult to find suitable auditorium accommodation for a jazz band, and the agency has decided to cancel the visit.

ORGAN REGISTERS

Prof. L. H. Nichols, University organist, has announced that he will be visiting another in his series of organ recitals tomorrow evening, being given at 9:15 p.m. in Convocation Hall.

He will be playing a variety of organ music, and the program is well worth a visit.

Prof. Nichols is a well-known organist, and his recitals are always well attended.

OTTAWA, Feb. 5.—Everybody knew that George Drew could dish it out. The question of whether the new Progressive Conservative leader could take the merciless and ruthless lightning of the House of Commons was answered on Monday.

With a cool and calm smile on his face, George Drew sat with unruffled composure for three and a half hours in the House while Prime Minister St. Laurent made the new opposition leader the object of one of the most lasting political attacks in recent Canadian history.

SMILED AND SMILED

While Mr. St. Laurent unleashed his heavy rhetorical artillery and fired salvo after salvo at the well-known opposition leader, Mr. Drew, the member for Gleanings, William L. Mackenzie King, in his front bench, posture, smile and smile and turned his head constantly. Mr. St. Laurent was proud of his prodigious and successful.

Going back as far as 1937 in his search for ammunition, quoting speeches of George Drew and making full use of oratorical shades of meaning in the Mackenzie King tradition, Mr. St. Laurent proved completely unable to ruffle even for a moment the calm demeanor of the Opposition leader.

Even the shouts and desk-bashing of "Little Chicago" back-benchers in the Liberal ranks failed to draw the expected sharp retort from George Drew.

STRATEGY FAILED

When it was all over and Mr. St. Laurent had yielded the floor, even the Liberals knew that the strategy of trying to "smile" George Drew into loss of composure on the floor of the House of Commons had miserably failed.

Mr. Drew's waiting tactics became apparent Tuesday when he abruptly interrupted Mr. St. Laurent's Parliamentary session. Mr. Drew said that the House was a place for a debate, and that the House was a place for a debate.

Sunday Concert Ready For Edmonton Audience

Sunday, usually a lazy, hazy ho-hum sort of day, will be brightened this week with an excellent concert arranged by the Canada Save the Children Fund committee.

The concert will be the official opening of the campaign to take place in Edmonton next week. The Hon. Lt. Gov. J. C. Bowen will preside at the opening.

The program will feature artists in European costume. Artists to appear include: members of the choir of St. John's Ukrainian Orthodox Church conducted by George Bilashewich, Lesia Lazarowich, violinist; Miss Sherwill Langton, lyric soprano; Roman Stereura, pianist; J. W. E. Markie, tenor.

Hon Ivan Casey will present a cheque, donated by the Filks' club.

Special guests invited to attend the concert are Mrs. Bowen, Premier Ernest C. Manning, Mayor Harry D. Ainlay, Hon. Casey and Mrs. Casey, and Mr. and Mrs. Walter Wilson.

SINGING SADNESS OF A VIOLIN

HAUNTING SWEETNESS of the music of another day and another land will be played by Lesia Lazarowich, talented young city violinist, at the Sunday night concert. In the national costume of Ukraine, Miss Lazarowich will present several violin solos to the capacity audience expected.

Save the Children Campaign Starts Here

Citizens of Edmonton will be called upon during the week Feb. 7 to Feb. 12 to do their best for the Canada Save the Children Fund.

Organized to help refugee children in war-torn Europe, the Fund has fed and clothed millions of unfortunate waifs in the starving overseas countries.

The Fund needs money to carry out its mission of mercy and the money comes from the people of smiling-upon nations such as ours and the United States.

In Europe, mission workers from various countries set up organized centres in cities, towns and countryside . . . in kindergartens, political party headquarters and even in beer gardens. Here children come for welcome ration supplements of milk and protein foods.

Besides feeding the children, the Fund clothes whole families in need. Mountains of used clothing pour into the various centres. Each and every garment is welcomed and appreciated.

Rest homes are set up in centres where needy, undernourished children spend eight weeks eating, sleeping and regain their youthful vigor and health.

The Fund is doing a good work. It is up to people like we fortunate Edmontonians to support it wholeheartedly.

VOICES MINGLED IN PERFECT HARMONY FOR CONCERT CHOIR SELECTIONS

ROUNDED NOTES of liquid gold pour from the throats of the choir of the St. John's Ukrainian Orthodox Church in rehearsal for their appearance at the Capitol Theatre Sunday. Conducted by George Bilashewich, the choir is an important example of the blending of untrained voices into a symbol of perfect tone and harmony. Mr. Bilashewich is a DP and has been in the city only a short time. Seated left to right are Mrs. E. Proniak, Claudia Gouda, Lola Fedoniuk, Mrs. N. Melnychuk, Mrs. O. Yussupchuk.

MUSIC WAS MADE FOR CHILDREN

ROMANCK SPRINGS from the fountain of youth and pretty little Nicholin Tompa admires her handsome young violin-playing beau, Evan Verchomin. Both children will appear in the concert. Canada Save the Children Fund committee members made arrangements for the concert, which will officially open the fund campaign in Edmonton.

University High To Stage Dance

Big Schedule Planned
In Edmonton Schools

By Dawn Cleator

Here is a review of U.H.S. for the remaining portion of the present school term. But before we start, here are two explanations. First the letters U.H.S. stand for University High School and secondly, if you have been wondering what "Lites" are, they are Literary Society Programs, featuring talent from the students.

The coaches for the U.H.S. basketball teams are as follows: Senior boys, Wilf Boyce; junior boys, Hal Leish; senior girls, Len Johansson and junior girls, Bill McKeay. The Drama club is headed by Doug Hodgson; basketball is under The Long and boxing and wrestling has Randall Murray as top man. The Glee club has a very capable director in Miss Sheppard.

TROPICAL DANCE

February 11 will be the scene of a formal dance in the Gym called "Club Tropicana." The theme is to be decorated to give a tropical effect. The orchestra will be Norris Pacey. The Grand banquet and dance will be held some time in May.

Grad book this year is a condensed form of a year book and will contain class and graduate pictures. Club news and sports and social events.

Students' Council is having plans made for the Graduation class. There is a "lit" in the latter part of February, this one is to feature the school orchestra and planned to be held in March or April.

A spring like mile is another and arrangements are being completed. During March the students hope to stage a nightclub and dance and later on a skating party and dance.

After the year play practices are completed the cast is to be entered into a small play and dance. And that's all the data we could muster on U.H.S. for the present. We'll be seeing you around the schools.

grads. They include Mrs. Shirley Heid, vocalist; Glen Kerr, tap dancer; Jack Fowler, violinist; Norman Fowler and George Fowler, pianists; Lorraine Purdon, popular young vocalist now attending Western; and also several others.

Decorations Committee. Decorations which promise to be super-lots are in the hands of Lenie Anderson, Larry Vance, Vince Hillman and Bill Wells.

During intermission a buffet lunch will be served under the sponsorship of Miss C. Mann. Colleen Sibbards has endeavored to contact many former Westerners by mail but found it impossible to reach all.

The staff and students take this opportunity of extending invitations to all graduates and former students of Western High and of the old Westminster Senior High. Tickets may be procured at Western in person or by mail.

Master of ceremonies, Herb Johnston, president of the Students' Union, will introduce the artists of the evening, all Westerners.

WHITE MARE IS TOAST OF PARTY

TAUNTON, Somerset, Feb. 3. (AP)—Sir William Stanger's white mare, Granite, put her best foot forward and was the toast of the party.

Post-playing Sir William said he took her to a formal dance here to "encourage people to ride."

With Sir William up and jogged through the halls, she was down.

"I also gave her a basin of beer," he said later.

A BURNING QUESTION

How Many Dates a Week Should Teen-Agers Have?

By Kille Turnell

Do you and your parents doubt each other's judgment on how many nights a week you should be allowed to go out?

This is one burning question which must be settled with mutual understanding in order to arrive at a date schedule which will seem reasonable to teenagers and parents.

From the young viewpoint, it is self-evidently to be so popular that you have the chance to date the girls or boys of your choice every night of the week. To be that much in demand is flattering but if you are a wise one you will realize that by a date schedule of one date a week is ideal for you.

Along with doing justice to your health and studies, a restricted date schedule will make your dates more meaningful and successful.

And you date whenever you want to go out.

Teen Events Of the Future

By Dawn Cleator

Tonight's dance — "The Blue Flame" will be held at Western. A number of prizes will be awarded, according to Len Healy, newly appointed program director, who says he has a series of interesting and entertaining stunts in store for teens.

The music will be supplied by "the best bands in the land" via the Jukeboxes.

Eric Harris returned from Calgary to report that the southern city teen groups will be unable to sponsor a show of over "Varieties of 48."

The Western Canada Conference of all the teen groups and some new ones who wish to form new clubs has been called for March 11, 12 and 13 in Edmonton.

The dance dates for the near future are: Western, Feb. 5; Glenview, Feb. 12; Glenview, Feb. 19; Western, Feb. 26; Glenview, March 5; Glenview, March 12; Western, March 19; Glenview, March 26.

Westglen to Stage First Alumni Dance

By ISOBEL GAGE

In answer to many requests from students, Westglen is celebrating her first Alumni dance, Saturday, Feb. 12.

Following the Valentine mood, the dance has been named "Cupid's Capers" and is semi-formal. Phil McCombs and his orchestra will be in attendance.

Colleen Sibbards, president of the Literary Society has been invited to give the opening remarks. A real home-coming at Westglen. Students and staff will be out in full force to welcome our graduates.

The reception committee will be Mr. and Mrs. J. G. Niddre, Mr. and Mrs. Lorne Smith, Mr. and Mrs. W. J. McMillan, Mr. and Mrs. R. A. McNaught and Miss C. Manner.

Master of ceremonies, Herb Johnston, president of the Students' Union, will introduce the artists of the evening, all Westgleners.

The dance will be held at the Westglen school, 1000 Westglen Avenue, at 8:00 p.m.

Tb. to Disappear As Major Death Cause

REGINA, Feb. 5. (CP)—There still are 3,000 Canadian dying each year from tuberculosis but it is disappearing as a major cause of death. Dr. G. J. Whelan, medical officer of health, said today.

The executive secretary of the Canadian Tuberculosis Association said "some 40 years ago tuberculosis was the first cause of death, but today it is seventh."

Dr. Whelan said that the death rate from tuberculosis has fallen from 100 per 100,000 in 1900 to 10 per 100,000 today.
